York Collegiate Institute.

FOUNDATION.

THE York Collegiate Institute was founded by the late Samuel Small, to furnish the elements of a solid education at an expense so small as to be practically within the reach of all.

To carry out this purpose he selected an eligible site comprising a quarter square of ground, in the City of York, erected a commodious building, furnished and equipped it thoroughly, beautified the surrounding lawn, and laid out play grounds. He also provided a dwelling for the President of the Faculty and a boarding house adjoining for the accommodation of teachers and pupils from a distance. He conveyed the whole property to a Board of Trustees in trust forever, and provided a liberal endowment.

This endowment has been increased by the generosity of the founder's widow, the late Mrs. Isabel Cassat Small.

There is also a Scholarship Endowment for the benefit of students who are preparing for the ministry.

The Cassat Library was a gift to the institution and consisted of two thousand five hundred volumes, especially selected.

THE BUILDING.

In December, 1885, within five months after the death of the venerable founder, the school building was destroyed by fire, and the year following a new building was erected and completely furnished and equipped by his nephews, Messrs. George Small, W. Latimer Small and Samuel Small, as a memorial to their lamented uncle.

The new building occupies the same site, and stands on the same foundation as its predecessor; but in the new design many defects of the old building have been removed, and many improvements made which add greatly to its capacity and convenience. Adjacent to the main building, and connected by a corridor, are the Laboratories, in the basement of which is contained the steam apparatus for heating the buildings. By the isolation of the Laboratories and the furnace the risk of fire is reduced to a mimimum.

Communicating with Memorial Hall, and also by corridors with the several cloak rooms, is the Main School Room. This is on the first floor, and is spacious, lofty, well lighted, comfortably furnished with single desks, and is planned in accordance with the latest improvements in educational requirements.

In the wings are six ample Recitation Rooms.

On the second floor, immediately above and equal in size to the main school room, is the Auditorium, with seating capacity for about five hundred.

The Library and Philosophical Lecture Rooms are on the third floor, fitted up with handsome book and instrument cases and other requisite furniture.

The utmost attention has been given to the heating and ventilation of the entire building.

DESIGN.

The design of the Founder contemplated a thorough course of academic instruction and training, combined with practical Christian culture; and the distinctive aim of the institution is to develop the moral along with the intellectual faculties, and inspire a love for learning and a genuine reverence for the sacred truths of our Christian religion.

The design is based on a broad and liberal catholicity, which is maintained purely and strictly without sectarian bias; and the administration of the school is pledged to absolute impartiality in regard to religious faith, and perfect respect for all. In all that pertains to this feature of the Institute the purpose is simply to maintain the healthy atmosphere of a Christian school.

The duties of each day begin with a short religious service; and every Wednesday afternoon there is a closing service consisting of a lecture and worship.

There is systematic instruction upon the main facts in the Bible once a week, covering the general outlines of Old Testament History, the life of Christ and the labors of the Apostles.

ENTRANCE.

Applicants 13 years of age or those presenting an adequate certificate from a former teacher may be admitted without an examination.

Other applicants for admission must pass an examination in spelling, reading, writing, geography, arithmetic through common and decimal fractions, and History of the United States through the Colonial period.

COURSES OF STUDY.

The studies pursued embrace a Classical Course, a Scientific Course and a Young Women's Course. The first and second courses are arranged to prepare students for the freshman class of any American college or scientific school, and all are adapted to secure broad, liberalizing and practical instruction and training for students who may not intend to pursue their studies further at any other institution.

THE MATHEMATICAL DEPARTMENT comprises a complete course in Arithmetic, including the metric system and commercial practice, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry and Surveying, including field work. For this latter subject the department is well equipped with an excellent transit and other necessary instruments. It also provides a practical course in Bookkeeping and two years, work in Mechanical Draughting, including the usual geometric work, perspective, and drawing from objects; it further offers postgraduate studies in Analytical Geometry and other higher branches.

CHEMISTRY. In Chemistry the student is put to work in the laboratory from the very beginning, and during the year, in addition to daily recitations, performs an extended series of experiments in general chemistry, full notes being required on all work done. The elective work of the second year consists of a course in inorganic preparations, and an introduction to qualitative analysis.

For those who are prepared for more advanced work, the laboratory is equipped with a balance, graduated vessels, and other apparatus for quantitative analysis. TEXT-BOOKS: Remsen's Briefer Course; Newell's Experimental Chemistry; Stoddard's Outline of Qualitative Analysis.

PHYSICS. The work in Physics is pursued during the senior year of the Scientific course, being purposely deferred to the last year in order that the student may have become familiar with the methods of algebra and geometry. This permits the course to be adapted to the highest entrance requirements of universities for their scientific and technological courses.

In addition to the regular daily recitations, three hours per week of laboratory work, which is largely quantitative, is required of each student who pursues this subject. TEXT-BOOKS: Carhart and Chute's High School Physics; Stone's Experimental Physics; the Harvard Exercises in Physics.

GEOLOGY AND MINERALOGY. This course is begun with the study of Physical Geography. Geology and Mineralogy are pursued as an elective by seniors in the Scientific course. In connection with recitations students examine a large collection of typical rocks and fossils and about four hundred mineral specimens. Blowpipe analysis and Crystallography receive full attention. As occasion offers, the classes are taken out for field work. TEXT-BOOKS: Dryer's Physical Geography; Dana's Text Book of Geology; Dana's Manual of Mineralogy and Petrography.

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE. In connection with Botany, Zoölogy, and Physiology, laboratory work is required in addition to regular recitations from text-books.

PRESENTATIONS.

During the year the following presentations have been made to the various scientific collections:

By Mr. Samuel Small and Mr. J. A. Dempwolf—Relics from the volcanic destruction of St. Pierre; volcanic sand and rocks from Martinique and Jamaica.

By Dr. E. T. Jeffers—Splendid specimen of fluorite from England.

By Julius Walker, '05—Celestite from Put-in-Bay, Lake Erie.

By Mr. Samuel Small, Jr., '93—Portraits and engravings.

MATERIAL FACILITIES.

THE PHILOSOPHICAL HALL contains physical and astronomical apparatus, biological specimens, a valuable collection of ancient coins, a herbarium of over five hundred species, and a large and valuable collection of minerals, fossils, and typical rocks.

THE CHEMICAL LABORATORY, which is detached from the main building, is complete in all its appointments and supplied with the most modern appliances for practical work.

THE PHYSICAL LABORATORY occupies a large room adjacent to the chemical laboratory, and contains tables and working appliances of latest design, a dark room for photographic and optical work and a large amount of new apparatus, chiefly electrical, which has been added recently.

THE MATHEMATICAL DEPARTMENT possesses an excellent engineer's transit and other necessary instruments, and classes in surveying are given practice in actual field work. It has also a four-inch telescope and a large celestial globe for astronomical work.

THE LATIN AND GREEK ROOM is furnished with a full set of Kiepert's Classical Wall Maps.

THE CASSAT LIBRARY, containing now about three thousand five hundred well selected volumes of choice literature, affords opportunity for private research and advanced literary culture.

A reference library in the school room contains the latest cyclopedias, dictionaries, and atlases.

THE GYMNASIUM is equipped with appliances for systematic exercise, which is especially important during the winter season and when the weather forbids outdoor exercise. The facilities have been greatly increased recently by the addition of a fine double shower bath and a dressing room.

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION, under Faculty control, has charge of all athletic games, and the school has an excellent record in football, baseball, and track and field sports.

PUBLIC EXERCISES.

THE STUDENTS OF THE SENIOR CLASS deliver orations and read essays at a public entertainment held about the middle of the second term.

FOUNDER'S DAY is observed on April 14th as a holiday, and a literary address is delivered in the evening. The orator for 1902 was Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, D. D., Washington, D. C., and for 1903, Prof. Robert Dick Wilson, D. D., Princeton.

THE PHI SIGMA SOCIETY, which is maintained by the young men, with the coöperation of the Faculty, holds weekly meetings, with the usual literary and parliamentary exercises. The Society also holds semi-annual evening receptions for invited guests. The Society has, by its representatives, won debates with the York High School in 1899, and with the Harrisburg High School in 1900, the York County Academy in 1902, and the Jacob Tome Inst tute in 1903.

THE ALPHA ALPHA SOCIETY, maintained by the young ladies, under the direction of the ladies of the Faculty, gives its members an opportunity for literary culture and practice in conducting meetings.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, now numbering over two hundred, holds its annual meeting on Monday evening of commencement week. Samuel Small, Jr., '93, York, Pa., is its president, and Miss Clara Bressler, '76, York, Pa., its Corresponding Secretary.

BOARDING.

Under the supervision of the President of the Faculty, arrangements may be made for students who are not residents of York to secure suitable accommodations in private boarding-houses. The regulations in these cases are such as experience suggests to be the best for the safety and well-being of the students and the good reputation of the institution. The expenses range from $3 to $5 per week.

EXPENSES.

The liberal endowment of the institution renders it possible for the tuition to be placed at the almost nominal sum of $40 per annum, one-half of which is payable at the beginning of each term, viz.:

First term, Sept.—Jan., - - - - - -	$20.00
Second term, Feb.—June, - - - - - -	20.00

EXTRAS.

Chemistry, laboratory fee, - -	$6.00 per annum.
Physics, laboratory fee, - - -	2.50 " "
For breakage, - - - - - -	actual cost.

DISCOUNT AND RAILROAD FARES.

A DISCOUNT of fifty per cent. is allowed to children of clergymen of any religious denomination, and of ten per cent. to a family furnishing more than one student.

New students are charged from the date of their entrance, and all students to the end of each current term.

In case of protracted absence on account of sickness or other cause, students are charged one-half the regular amount for the time they are absent.

COMMUTATION TICKETS may be procured at a low rate from the railroads for the use of students who come in to attend the Institute in the morning and return in the evening.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

The Coleman Scholarship Fund yields an annual income of $150 each for seven scholarships, payable at the end of each quarter. These scholarships are awarded by the Board of Trustees, and are available to aid in defraying the expenses of students of the Institute, preparing for college, who intend to enter the ministry of any Christian church. Students desirng scholarships must be recommended as candidates for the ministry by their Presbytery or corresponding authority to the Westminster Presbytery, and be approved by the Faculty and Trustees. An applicant for a scholarship should be prepared to enter the second year of the Classical course.

Correspondence is invited on this subject, to be addressed either to the President of the Board or the President of the Faculty.

A TEST OF OUR WORK.

One important aim of the school is to fit young men and women for entrance into institutions of higher education. More than forty of our former students are now in colleges and professional schools. Of these, sixteen entered at the beginning of the current year. The young men are in Princeton, University of Pennsylvania, Johns Hopkins, Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Lehigh, Trinity, Gettysburg, State, Dickinson, Franklin and Marshall, and others. The young women are in such colleges as Bryn Mawr, Mt. Holyoke, Wells, Baltimore Woman's College, Swarthmore, and Lebanon Valley. Our students have been admitted to the classes for which they have been examined and have made an honorable record after their admission.

LECTURES AND ENTERTAINMENTS.

Various public entertainments and literary exercises, to which all our students have been admitted free of charge, have been held recently in the auditorium, among them the following:

The Rev. Charles Wood, D. D., of Philadelphia, delivered the oration at commencement, 1899, on "Beauty as a Moral Force."

A course of six lectures on the Wagner Music Dramas, by Mr. Thos. Whitney Surette, followed by a lecture by Dr. F. H. Sykes, on Rudyard Kipling, all with stereopticon illustrations.

A musicale by Prof. S. E. Gipe and his pupils.

An illustrated lecture on birds, by Prof. Witmer Stone, President of the Audubon Society of Pennsylvania.

An illustrated lecture on History and Scenery about the Monongahela River, by Dr. C. H. Ehrenfeld.

Two Shakesperean recitals by Mr. John H. Howard.

Founder's Day oration, 1900, on "The Hand of God in American History," by Dr. Robert Ellis Thompson, Philadelphia.

A course of three illustrated lectures by Miss Mary Jeffers, A. M., of Bryn Mawr, as follows: (1.) The Marble Faun; (2.) Legends of the Rhine; (3.) Romola.

A musical comedy by the pupils of the school under the direction of Miss Harriett Randolph was rendered successfully on two evenings in April, 1902.

Founder's Day oration, 1902, on "A Lesson in Emphasis," by Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, D. D., of Washington, D. C.

The usual Spring orations by members of the Senior class.

The school possesses a fine Stereopticon, using an arc light, and capable of throwing a bright, sharp picture of a diameter of twelve feet or more; and at all entertainments where illustrations were wanted this lantern was used with excellent effect.

Thirtieth Anniversary.

ANYTHING less than a century in the life of an educational institution is considered brief, and as furnishing no conclusive evidence of permanence or of the wisdom of the founders.

The mere construction of the building which the Institute first occupied, and the endowment of the school on a plan generous, intelligent, and Christian, was enough to prove Mr. Samuel Small a man of public spirit, benevolence and piety. The attendance during the first few years proved that the community recognized the need of a school of this grade. Thirty successive years of instruction with an average of over one hundred pupils each year, and twenty-seven graduating classes with an average of ten to each class, have multiplied the proofs of the need of a school just such as Mr. Small planned and secured for York.

A moment's attention to the statistics that indicate the attendance and graduation for these years will increase the appreciation of the work done by the school. Including those on the roll for the current year, about 1300 different pupils have been under instruction. Of those whose names are found in catalogues previous to that of 1903, 131 young men and 135 young women have been graduated. Of the young men twelve have become lawyers, eleven physicians, twenty-five clergymen, five teachers, four farmers, thirty-five business men, three journalists, six filled important positions as superintendents, chemists, draughtsmen or civil engineers, and seventeen are still pursuing their studies with a view to a profession. Of the young women graduates, forty-three are married, eight are teachers and ten are still at higher schools. Besides these, 532 young men and 246 young women did not remain with us to take a diploma. Of the non-graduate boys, many came to take a special course to fit them for entrance to law, medical or technical schools, or colleges that require less for admission than we require for graduation, and are now in the professions. Of the 44 of our students, boys and girls, who are now in colleges and professional schools, one-half are our graduates. The other half include many who took high rank here and are among the best in their classes at college, but did not take our full course.

The plan of the school, as the founder designed it, was twofold, both to give the young people of York and vicinity who wished to finish their studies at home, a well rounded literary and scientific education, and also to fit for college any boys who were preparing for the higher education. For more than ten years the course here fitted the graduate for the Junior class in the best colleges. When t was found that most students preferred to enter the Freshman class at college, the course was changed to meet this demand. So rapidly have entrance requirements increased in the last few years that little less actual work and preparation are exacted now for the Freshman class than were demanded for the Junior class twenty-five years ago.

Another change made ten years ago admits young women to the classical and scientific courses, that they, as well as the young men, may be fitted for college. Five of our young lady graduates have been graduated from as many colleges, viz.: Bryn Mawr, Bucknell, Lebanon Valley, Swarthmore, and Woman's College of Baltimore. Ten other young lady graduates of our school are in colleges, and many here are taking the College preparatory course.

Of the original Board of Trustees, of fifteen members, but two remain. When in 1885 the lamented president of the Board and founder of the school died, Mr. Samuel Small, his nephew, was elected to the office. No one could have more faithfully or effectively carried out the idea of the founder than has the present incumbent.

Rev. Dr. McDougal, the first president, served nineteen years, till his death in 1892. Professor A. B. Carner acted as president one year. Dr. Jeffers has held the office for the last ten years. Of the forty other members of the faculty who have been elected by the Board, besides some who have served efficiently as substitutes, six remain: Prof. A. B. Carner has served for twenty-seven years, Miss M. S. Bixby twenty-six, Dr. C. H. Ehrenfeld sixteen, Prof. R. Z. Hartzler five years, and the Misses Pomeroy and Latane one year. Miss Huldah Allen, after a faithful and honorable service of twenty-five years, resigned in 1901.

Founder's Day, April 14th, has been observed as a holiday, from the beginning of our history, but since the death of our generous patron, in addition to this an oration has been delivered each year by some one selected by the Executive Committee. The orators have been the Hon. John Gibson, York; Rev. John T. Kerr, Elizabeth, N. J.; George S. Schmidt, Esq., York; Rev. R. P. Cobb, Rahway, N. J.; Rev. W. W. Anstadt, Hollidaysburg; Rev. A. Thompson Stewart, Marietta; Rev. C. E. Craven, Mattituck, N. Y.; Rev. John A. Muir, Bangor; John A. Hoober, Esq., York; Rev. S. J. McClenaghan, East Orange, N. J.; President Warfield, Lafayette College; President Patton, Princeton University; Hon. N. C. Schaeffer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Penna.; President I. N.

Rendall, Lincoln University; President R. E. Thompson, High School, Philadelphia; Rev. C. E. Walter, D. D., York; Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, D. D., Washington City.

The building, of which a full description is found in each catalogue, was constructed with a view to meeting, and more than meeting the actual wants of a fitting school. An addition to the building was made in the summer of '97 for a physical laboratory, and this with the chemical laboratory is supplied with the latest and most approved apparatus. The Cassat Library has been recatalogued, and contains over three thousand volumes, well selected, standard, and representative of the best literature.

The Phi Sigma literary society, conducted by the older students among the young men, with some attention from the Faculty, has always held a high place among the educating influences of the Institute. It maintains the high standard of former years, and is loyally supported by almost all the young men eligible to membership. Of the five interscholastic debates in which it has engaged, it has won four.

The Alpha Alpha Society, sustained by the young women of the school, with some help from the ladies of the Faculty, has been of great advantage to its members.

The Y. M. C. A., ten years old, besides holding devotional meetings and forming classes for Bible study, is represented annually at Northfield and state and district conventions.
